We'll swap anything, says Noel, records, books, toys - anything, so long as it's not alive! We can't swap your brother for a sister, or your budgie for a vulture, but we're ready to try and fix an exchange for any goods, provided they're not broken!

How to stop your chimney smoking.

The down-draught that forces smoke and fumes into your living room is caused by wind. You can stop it.

Pick up a Colt Cowl at any builder's merchant.

It's aluminium, and it fits any chimney. You can fit it yourself, or ask any builder.

We guarantee it works, or your money back.

For very little, you could have a smoke free winter.

The Colt Cowl.

Don't get too romantic

After reading the comments of Philip Hinchcliffe, producer of Dr Who (BBC1), concerning the 'growing taste for science fantasy and romance' (RADIO TIMES, 4-10 September), I hope that the series does not go too far in the direction of pure romanticism...

I hope that the makers of Dr Who do not succumb to a temptation to let the programme develop into a sort of comical fairy-tale.
